LIGHTFAIR 2023 EXHIBIT SPACE SELECTION NOW OPEN Trade show runs May 23 – 25 in New York City

NEW YORK – August 11, 2022 – Anticipation is high for the 2023 edition of LightFair with space selection now open to all potential exhibiting brands following three successful weeks of renewals by 2022 and 2019 exhibitors. LightFair 2023 will move back to the Jacob K. Javits Convention Center in New York City, May 21 – 25.

“The energy at LightFair in Las Vegas was incredible and we expect to carry the momentum through to New York City in 2023,” said Dan Darby, show director. “The need for face-to-face conversations and the opportunity to fully experience all the lighting industry has to offer are stronger than ever and we are looking forward to a bigger and better LightFair in 2023.”

The 2023 edition of LightFair in New York is expecting to showcase 400 exhibitors presenting innovations in commercial and industrial lighting across design-focused lighting, technology, outdoor and lighting adjacent categories. The 2023 show will also feature the new LightFair Conference, developed by IES. Space selection will remain open until floor space is sold out. The current floor plan, updated daily with new exhibitors, can be found at
